COME GROW WITH US!

THE CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL HAS BEEN PART OF OUR CULTURAL ECOLOGY FOR 22 YEARS!

JUNE 8 - 12, 2010

WHAT DOES IT MEANS TO GROW... TO EXPERIENCE THE MOMENT WHEN ANTICIPATION AND IMAGINATION MEET REAL LIFE?

You're six years old, and as you wait in the dark for your very first play to begin, it's like a light gets turned on in your heart. Or the low notes of a cello send shivers down your spine like no other sound you've heard before. A story unfolding, a body in motion, the rush of laughter at an unexpected surprise – any of those small, magical moments can change a life.

Maybe it's the feeling of happiness, of possibility and the confidence that no day, ever, could be better than this.

A day at the Saskatchewan Children's Festival can be all that, and more. When the big tent goes up on the riverbank in Kiwanis Park, we know summer is just around the corner. And to the 20,000 children who visit the festival each year, it's a time unlike any other.

For 22 years, it's been our great privilege to contribute to the quality of life of our youngest community members. Now, teachers who came to the festival as children bring their own students, and our community grows stronger together.

We know that experiencing the arts empowers, inspires, astonishes, instructs, and motivates—it touches lives for the better. And support of the arts helps children succeed in school and in life, fuels economic stability in our communities, and brings people together.

Everybody grows older; the Children's Festival is a place to grow happier. Through the arts, a child can grow hope, grow wonder, grow creativity, grow discovery, and grow smiles – just like the little girl in this photograph. How do I know? That's me, age 6, on the steps of the theatre before attending my very first play... a small, magical moment that changed a life.

You never know what kind of surprises the day will bring. I hope we'll see you at the Saskatchewan Children's Festival June 8 – 12.

Come grow with us!
