Cardinal Leger students and staff raising money for Haitian orphanage

Students and staff at Cardinal Leger elementary school think they can dance – so they're going to raise money for Haiti while they're at it. Over the past week or so, the school's SRC has held a series of "So You Think You Can Dance"-style auditions, with the best dancers getting a ticket to appear in a performance in front of the entire school on Monday.

Though all students will attend, they are asked to bring $1 'admission.' The finale of the 30-minute show will be an ensemble performance by the school's staff.

This is the third in a series of fund-raisers at the school. Students have already paid $1 to chew gum all day and another $1 to wear hats to class. By Friday, approximately $900 had been raised for the Broken Wings Mission, which supports an orphanage in Haiti that was destroyed by the earthquake.

Media are invited to attend Monday's event. Details are as follows:

10:45 a.m. – students gather in gym,
performance begins shortly afterward
Monday, January 25
