

Celebrating Safe Positive Schools

Our school project was a creating a St. Philip School Behaviour Matrix.

(If your project was a story, please include it in the “It looked like this . . . section below.)

How did you do it?

In September we went through a process with students, staff & parents identifying our values and goals. We looked our behaviours which support our values and goals. These behaviours were articulated in a chart form.

Who was involved?

Students, Staff and School Community Council

What was the impact for students, staff, or your community?

Students have ownership for writing document, clear and universal understanding of three major goals and related behaviours to achieve those goals. The process was as much or more valuable then the final document. Much conversation was generated and gave us pause to reflect on our values and why we exist as a Catholic school.

It looked like this . . .

Please see links to the St. Philip School Behaviour Matrix and the power point that was presented to students.
